

Heather McKinnon

Partner, Bryant McKinnon Lawyers

Heather McKinnon has built a formidable reputation over four decades practicing law on the Mid North Coast of NSW. Now one of the leading Family Law authorities in the country, her focus has always remained on helping the people in her own community to achieve the best possible outcomes in often difficult and traumatic times. Exceptionally qualified, Heather has a specialist family law accreditation, is a qualified ICL and an Arbitrator under the Family Law Act Regulations.

Heather's style is frank and solutions-focussed. Not one to put people on a process-driven treadmill, she works to understand her client's individual circumstance and guide them through complex family decisions.

Dedicated to education in her community and her profession, Heather shares her expertise and advice in the highly regarded and easily accessible podcast, The Family Matters Show, which has now been running over six years.
